Why an immediate annuity?

Market, income and inflation risks can interrupt your retirement plans. Adding a guaranteed income solution, such as a fixed immediate annuity, to your retirement portfolio helps manage these risks by:

- Creating a competitive amount of immediate guaranteed income
- Offering the ability to provide guaranteed fixed income for as long as you need it, including several lifetime income options
- Helping protect your retirement income

A fixed immediate annuity is a contract you purchase from an insurance company; it is designed for long-term retirement goals. It offers guaranteed fixed income payments for a specific period of time or for life. As you're reading, please keep in mind that all guarantees and protections are subject to the claims-paying ability of Nationwide Life Insurance Company.

It's important to note that fixed annuities are subject to investment risks such as inflation risk and interest rate risk.

Why INCOME Promise Select®?

INCOME Promise Select gives you the power to choose

This fixed, single-premium immediate annuity from Nationwide allows you to create guaranteed income that meets your specific needs and timeline with these payment options and features:

- Customized guaranteed income — Create income for an individual or two people (joint annuitants), for a specific period of time or for life — whatever best meets your needs
- Cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) — Provides future income increases that help protect against inflation
- Liquidity feature — Allows you to take lump-sum withdrawals in the event of a financial emergency at an additional cost; available with any term-certain or cash-refund payment option

What do I need to know about INCOME Promise Select?

Who can own it?

Owners can be any age, but annuitants must be age 95¹ or younger; there is no minimum age.

What are the minimum and maximum initial purchase amounts?

- Minimum: $10,000
- Maximum: $3 million²

When will I begin to receive guaranteed income payments?

You can begin guaranteed income payments anytime between 30 days and 365 days after the contract is issued. You choose a start date when you sign your application.

How often can I receive income payments?

You can choose to receive income:

- Monthly
- Semiannually
- Quarterly
- Annually

Payments can be deposited directly into your bank or brokerage account, or they can be automatically directed to pay ongoing bills such as utilities, mortgage installments or insurance premiums.

How are my income payments calculated?

Income payments are based on several factors. Most of these factors are determined by the choices you make when you customize your contract to match your needs:

- Total amount purchased (premium)
- Income start date
- Payment frequency (monthly, quarterly, semiannually or annually)
- Income payment option

The remaining factors are based on the annuitant's age and sex.

What is the minimum amount I will receive?

The minimum amount is $100. If any payment would be less than $100, Nationwide has the right to reduce the frequency of payments to meet the minimum requirement.

Are there tax advantages?

If you fund INCOME Promise Select with money you've already paid taxes on, then you'll have a source of income that is partially tax-free.

Federal income tax laws are complex and subject to change. The information in this brochure is based on current interpretations of the law and is not guaranteed. Nationwide and its representatives do not give legal or tax advice. Please consult your attorney or tax advisor for answers to specific questions.

¹ Certain restrictions may apply to income options available.

² If you choose to purchase more than the maximum, it is subject to Nationwide's approval. Subsequent payments into the contract aren't permitted.

Customizing your income

Create an income plan to match your needs

Nationwide designed INCOME Promise Select to give you the power to create a customized, guaranteed income stream that matches your specific needs. Here are some choices to consider:

- How long the guaranteed payments will last — You choose how long you want to receive guaranteed income payments as well as the number of lives the payments will cover
- How often you will receive payments — You choose when you will start receiving income payments and how often you want to receive them
- If you want your payments to increase annually — You can choose to add an annual cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) to your payments to help protect your future income against inflation
- If you want access to your money — Term-certain or cash-refund options allow you to take lump-sum withdrawals³ in the event of a financial emergency, as long as the purchase payment doesn't exceed $1 million
- Who your beneficiary will be — Based on the payment option you selected, you choose who will receive any remaining guaranteed payments upon your passing

³ Withdrawals are subject to income tax, and withdrawals before age 59½ may be subject to a 10% early withdrawal federal tax penalty.

Individual ownership

If you're looking to provide income for yourself and, in some cases, provide for a beneficiary through a contract based on one life.

Single Life

This option provides guaranteed lifetime income for you (the annuitant).

What happens to my payments in the event of my death?

There is no death benefit with this option; income payments stop in the event of your death.

Single Life with 5- to 30-year Term Certain

This option provides guaranteed income for a period of time or for life, whichever is longer. The graphic below illustrates a single life with 15-year term-certain payment option.

What happens to my payments in the event of my death?

If you die before the end of the term-certain period, your beneficiary can choose to receive the remaining term payments (or a lump-sum payment that is equivalent to the present value of the remaining payments). If you die after the term-certain period has ended, income payments stop with your death.

Single Life with Cash Refund

This option provides income for you (the annuitant) until your total payments equal your original premium (minus any premium taxes) or for life, whichever is longer.

What happens to my payments in the event of my death?

If you die before your annuity payments equal your original premium, your beneficiary will receive a lump-sum payment equal to the amount of your original premium that remains in the contract.

Term Certain income options (5 to 30 years)⁴

The term-certain option is for you if you only need income for a specific number of years rather than for the rest of your life. The graphic below illustrates a 10-year term-certain payment option.

What happens to my payments in the event of my death?

If you die before the end of the term, your beneficiary can choose to receive the remaining payments or the present value of those payments in a lump sum.

⁴ Not all term-certain options may be available at all times; check with Nationwide for rates and availability.

Joint annuitants

If you're looking to provide income for yourself and another individual through a contract based on two lives.

Joint and 100% Last Survivor

This option provides lifetime income for you (the annuitant) and another individual (joint annuitant) regardless of how long either lives.

What happens to the payments in the event of an annuitant's death?

If an annuitant dies, the second annuitant continues to receive income payments at the same dollar amount for the remainder of his or her life. When the second annuitant dies, income payments stop.

Joint and 50% Last Survivor

This option provides lifetime income for you (the annuitant) and another individual (joint annuitant) regardless of how long either lives.

What happens to the payments in the event of an annuitant's death?

If an annuitant dies, the second annuitant continues to receive income payments equal to 50% of the original payment amount for the remainder of his or her life. When the second annuitant dies, income payments stop.

Cost-of-living adjustment (COLA)

Adjust your income for inflation

INCOME Promise Select offers a cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) that allows you to increase your payments annually to help offset inflation. This optional feature will increase your payments by 1%, 2%, 3%, 4% or 5% compounded annually. Your COLA percentage cannot be changed or removed once the contract has been issued.

Here's how:

- Every year, on the anniversary date of when you started receiving income, the previous year's guaranteed payment amount will increase by the percentage you chose
- Once chosen, the COLA increases will continue until the end of the contract

Based on the tax status of the contract and age of the contract owner, not all COLA percentages may be available at all times. Check with Nationwide for availability.

Liquidity feature

Access to your money if you need it

With the Liquidity feature, INCOME Promise Select allows you to create guaranteed income with the option to take lump-sum withdrawals in the event you need extra cash for an emergency.

Here are the key details:

- Available only as an additional cost with cash-refund or term-certain payment options as long as the purchase payment is no more than $1 million
- Lump-sum withdrawals are allowed during the Liquidity period only; you can withdraw up to 100% of the Liquidity value

Liquidity period

- Term-certain contract: Liquidity period is during the term-certain period
 - Cash-refund contract: Liquidity period is calculated on an individual basis using factors including, but not limited to, payment frequency, annuitant's age and initial contribution
- Multiple withdrawals are allowed during the Liquidity period; withdrawals must be $2,000 or more unless the remaining Liquidity value is less than $2,000; in that case, the withdrawal must be 100% of the remaining Liquidity value
 - Withdrawals will affect your policy; after the withdrawal, future income payments during the remaining Liquidity period will be reduced in direct proportion to the percentage of the withdrawal to the Liquidity value
 - If lifetime payments continue after the end of the Liquidity period, those payments will return to the amount guaranteed prior to the withdrawal
 - $50 will be deducted for each withdrawal taken (the fee is $100 in New York)
 - The Liquidity feature terminates at the earliest of when:
 - 100% of the Liquidity value has been withdrawn
 - The date the Liquidity period ends
 - The date of the last surviving annuitant's death

How the Liquidity feature works for a hypothetical person

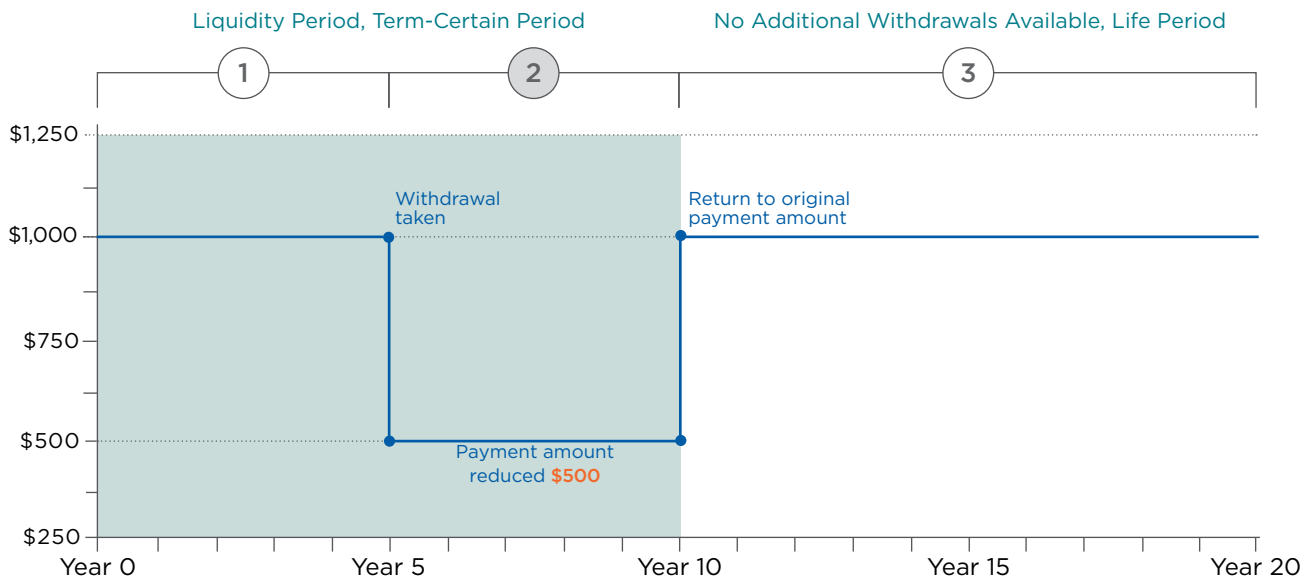

Meet Charlie

Charlie retires and discovers that he needs an additional $1,000 a month for expenses. He purchases an INCOME Promise Select contract and selects a single-life policy with 10-year term-certain payment option. His purchase payment results in a monthly income amount of $1,000, providing him the additional income he needs.

Five years later, Charlie's basement floods, and the water damage is not covered under his homeowners insurance policy. Because he purchased a single-life policy with term-certain payment option and is still within the Liquidity period, Charlie is able to withdraw the money he needs to make the necessary repairs in his basement.

How the Liquidity feature works

- 1 Charlie has been receiving $1,000 per month for five years. To pay for flood damage, he withdraws 50% of his available Liquidity value, minus a $50 withdrawal fee.
- 2 Due to his withdrawal, Charlie's monthly income payments will now continue at $500, a reduction of 50%. Charlie doesn't make any additional withdrawals, so his income payments remain at $500 through the end of his Liquidity period.
- 3 Beginning in year 11, Charlie's income payment automatically returns to $1,000 (the original amount) for the rest of his life, and he is no longer able to take withdrawals.

This illustration is hypothetical and meant for illustrative purposes only. It assumes a single-life policy with 10-year term-certain payment option, and it is based on income beginning within 30 days of contract issuance. Please note, there is a $50 charge for each Liquidity withdrawal ($100 in NY). All guarantees and protections are subject to the claims-paying ability of Nationwide Life Insurance Company. All withdrawals are subject to tax. Please talk with your tax professional for answers to your specific questions.
