What's a 457(b)? ...or a 401(k), Roth or 403(b)?

You've probably heard of the different types of retirement plans: 457(b) Deferred Compensation, 401(k), 403(b), 401(a) and Roth 457 or Roth 401(k) Plan Account. As a State of Maryland employee, there are plans created specifically for you.

MSRP offers a variety of retirement plans for employees like you to put aside money from each paycheck toward retirement. These plans can help bridge the gap between what you have in your pension and Social Security, and how much you'll need in retirement. The available plans include:

- 457(b) Deferred Compensation Plan – tax-deferred, available to all State of Maryland employees, and also includes an after-tax Roth 457 option
- 401(k) Savings and Investment Plan – tax-deferred, available to all State of Maryland workers, and also includes an after-tax Roth 401(k) option
- 403(b) Tax Deferred Annuity Plan – tax-deferred, and available to employees of Maryland State educational institutions.
- 401(a) If funding is provided in the State budget, Maryland law authorizes a matching payment for most employee contributions to State-sponsored supplemental retirement accounts. The status of the match program may change from year to year through legislative action.

What does tax-deferred mean?

Basically, you don't pay income taxes on your plan contributions or earnings until you retire and/or begin to take payments from your account. This may lower your taxable income currently.

What does after-tax, or Roth, mean?

Unlike tax-deferred contributions, after-tax contributions are taxed before they are invested in your plan. Then the withdrawals that you take in retirement are tax-free, as long as certain conditions are met.

² In addition, each of the mutual funds offered by the plan has fund expenses that are netted directly from the mutual fund's daily price. These will vary based upon the mutual fund selected. Also, some mutual funds may impose a short-term trade fee. Please read the underlying prospectuses carefully.

³ There are generally several considerations relevant to evaluating whether you might rollover outside assets or leave the money where it is currently invested. Qualified retirement plans, deferred compensation plans and individual retirement accounts are all different, including fees and when you can access funds. Assets rolled over from your account(s) may be subject to surrender charges, other fees and/or a 10% early withdrawal tax if withdrawn before age 59½. It's important to understand retirement account differences and similarities, such as fees, services, investment options, etc., before making any rollover decisions.

This material is not a recommendation to buy, sell, hold or roll over any asset, adopt an investment strategy, retain a specific investment manager or use a particular account type. It does not take into account the specific investment objectives, tax and financial condition or particular needs of any specific person. Investors should work with their financial professional to discuss their specific situation..

⁴ Generally, a Roth 401(k) or Roth 457(b) distribution is a qualified distribution if: 1) the first Roth contribution has been in the account for 5 years (the five-year period begins January 1 of the year a member first makes a Roth contribution into the account); and 2) a member is age 59½, (and for the Roth 457(b) has separated from State service) or has died or become disabled under IRC section 72(m)(7). Distributions made prior to these requirements being met are nonqualified distributions, and earnings could be taxable.

⁵ Other exceptions may apply. Check with your tax or legal advisor for more information.

Target Maturity trusts are designed for people who plan to withdraw funds during or near a specific year. These trusts use a strategy that reallocates equity exposure to a higher percentage of fixed investments over time. Like other funds, target date trusts are subject to market risk and loss. Loss of principal can occur at any time, including before, at or after the target date. There is no guarantee that target date trusts will provide enough income for retirement at any time, including before, at or after the target date. There is no guarantee that target date trusts will provide enough income for retirement or that asset allocation, diversification or any investment strategy will assure a profit or avoid losses.

CIT's available in 457(b), 401(k), and 401(a). Not available in 403(b).
